18. All of the Restrictive Covenants contained herein are for the benefit of any and all the owners of the lots within the boundaries of the subdivision. If the undersigned owner or any of its assigns, or successors in interest shall violate or attempt to violate any such Restrictive Covenants, then it shall be lawful for any other person or persons owning land within said boundaries, and for the Land Development Architectural Board to prosecute to recover damages and to have any and all further legal and equitable relief. The word "person" as used herein means any individual, partnership, firm, company, trust, association, corporation, or entity of whatsoever nature.

19. Should it be necessary to enforce any of the foregoing restrictive covenants by Court action, then and in that event, the Land Development Architectural Board shall be entitled to recover from the land owner violating said covenants, all costs incurred by said Land Development Architectural Board to enforce said covenants including the actual cost of attorneys fees incurred in any such court proceedings. The cost of enforcement when so assessed by any court of competent jurisdiction, shall become a lien against the real estate, which lien may be enforced and foreclosed in the manner provided by law.

20. The Land Development Architectural Board shall consist of Bruce Coble, Gene C. Galassini, G.L. Wiley. Should any member cease to function as such by reason of death, resignation, refusal or inability to serve, the remaining members may designate, in writing, a successor.

21. The developer reserves the right to exclude lots #23, 24, 26, 27, 28 and 36, from these Restrictive Covenants. No lot may be changed from a residential lot without the specific consent of the Land Development Architectural Board. Approval shall be filed in the office of the Otero County Clerk, before the same shall be effective.

22. Invalidation of any one of these covenants contained herein by judgment or court order or decree shall in no way effect any of the other provisions which shall remain in full force and effect.
